Biographical Note

Alexander Mackay Smith (1903-1998) Author, scholar, sportsman, his life spanned all but five years of the 20th century. His passions embraced music, history, art, literature and social change. He was the most prolific author of equine sporting scholarship that North America has produced.

While editor of the Chronicle from 1952 to 1976, Mr. Mackay-Smith played an integral part in shaping the horse world by founding or cofounding numerous organizations or institutions. They include: The United States Pony Club, the U.S. Combined Training Association, the North American Riding for the Handicapped Association Inc., the Cleveland Bay Society, the Morven Park International Equestrian Institute, the Virginia Thoroughbred Association, the American Remount Association, the Museum of Hounds and Hunting and the Clarke County Historical Association.

In 1954 he and George Ohrstrom Sr. founded the National Sporting Library. Mr. Mackay-Smith was the curator and a director until his death. He also served as a director for Virginia of the Masters of Foxhounds Association.

By the late 1930's, he was hunting with both the Blue Ridge and the Rock Hill hunts. After the United States entered World War II, Mr. Mackay-Smith became MFH of both the Blue Ridge and Rock Hill.

Scarcely a remote corner of our sporting world exists where Alexander Mackay-Smith has not made important and long lasting contributions. Best known for his literary output, his many books on the sporting world have been enthusiastically received by the sporting fraternity. But one work of scholarship in particular, "The American Foxhound, 1747-1967 has achieved the status of classic under any definition of the term. It is quoted and referred to by every author of stature in American foxhunting, and it has taken its place among the ranks of other hunting classics published over the past two hundred years.

Collection Description

The Alexander Mackay-Smith Papers consist of materials related to his researching and writing several books and numerous articles for magazines such as "The Chronicle of the Horse." These papers consist of correspondence, photographs, magazine articles, hound pedigrees, original drafts of some of the books as well as plates and pictures from numerous magazines published in the nineteenth century.

The papers are arranged in 13 series as outlined below:

I. "The American Foxhound" 1747 to 1967

There are three boxes of folders containing information on pedigrees, hound shows, articles on hounds, correspondence concerning publication of the book, and drafts of most of the Chapters. There are copies of articles on Hunts, hound breeding, hound shows, the "great Hound Match" and early hunting in America. There are original letters from B.F. Bywaters.

II. "The Songs of Foxhunting"

Boxes K11, K1, K12, K48, and L85 contain drafts of songs, illustrations used in the book, articles on songs, ephemera, book reviews, and letters of thanks and congratulations, photographs of and related to John Peel, as well as handwritten and typed drafts of the chapters in the book.

III. "A History of the Masters of Foxhounds Association"

Box K11 contains correspondence concerning content of the book, minutes of MFHA meetings, Masters Dinner invitations by Joe Jones, a MFHA-related manuscript by Joseph Rogers, promotional and copyright material, and typed drafts of the book.

IV. "The Race Horses of America. Paintings by Edward Troye."
Box K12 contains letters requesting information and location of Troye paintings, correspondence and articles about Troye.

V. Articles by Mackay-Smith for The Chronicle et al

Boxes K13 and K14 contain articles on hounds, foxhunting, agriculture, and field trials. There are many copies of articles from magazines and newspapers published between 1800 and 1975.

VI. Articles and Correspondence on Cleveland Bay Horses

Box K15 contains letters, pedigrees, stallion articles and information on importing Cleveland Bay horses. There are several articles on light draft horses and their use in agriculture.

VII. Misc. Articles, Photos and Magazines.

Boxes L83, L84, K12, K15, J46, K14, J48, and K06 contain an assortment of information, magazine articles and photographs concerning hounds, horses and foxhunting in the 19th century. This series includes various personal materials of Mackay-Smith, including book orders and invoices, correspondence, and personal notes and manuscript. There are also a number of plates from Porters and Wilkes's "Spirit of the Times" magazine. Also included are a pedigree chart from "Speed and the Thoroughbred" and sheet music.

VIII. Vertical File Photos for Book

Box J47 contains 9 folders of photos used for his book. It is currently unknown which book these photos were used for.
